From the left,

Deirdre will need a mic for her bodhran. I don't think she'll need a chair

Shirleigh will need a chair, and two mics. One for her drum, one for announcing. The mic she talks into kinda needs to be a boom mic. She needs her mics on her right because she plays bodhran left-handed.

In the back row, Mark on guitar will need a chair. He has his own DI box, but he'll need a cable with an XLR connector to plug into it.

I'll have my FX box and amp on stage in front of me. I find having the amp in front I get less feedback.

Just so you know, my FX box is 28"x16" and my amp is 19"x10"x18"high.

My amp has a Slave Out and I have a 25' cable with 1/4" connectors to plug it into the PA.

Richard on whistles will need one mic.

Nicolle will be playing whistles, gaita, and keytar. She'll need a mic for the whistles and gaita. I know she'd prefer a boom stand. She also has a digital FX box she'd like to hook into her mic. Her keytar goes into a small amp as a monitor with a Line Out using 1/4" cable, same as myself.

If you need to get a hold of me fast, my # is 530.990.6662.
