THE FUTURE OF RADIO PROJECT

LOCAL RADIO, DIGITAL AGE

Nearly five decades ago, a generation of visionaries began KVMR to cultivate an arts-friendly environment and put Nevada County on the map.

If you understand the value KVMR has added to Nevada County and by extension the whole region —we're asking you to invest in KVMR's Future of Radio Project.

BE PART OF THE PLAN!

KVMR is the best little community station in the known universe. Your support makes it happen.

welcome

Ali Lightfoot
General Manager

Just months after becoming KVMR's General Manager in 2019 I attended my first KVMR Celtic Festival and immediately fell in love with the unique and immersive experience it is. I felt lucky to be in a community with such a beautiful tradition. There really is a delightful surprise around every corner!

You might discover a parade of children marching through the tall pines playing classic Irish fiddle tunes with the exceptionally talented Galen Fraser. You might run into Mary Queen of Scots in the ladies' room or a knight in shining armor at the bar. You might get to know an owl by name or spend quality time talking philosophy with a Wizard!

Whether it's the cutting-edge fiddle and cello duo of Alasdair Fraser and Natalie Haas, The Moxie Strings freestyling with a group of youth fiddlers or the many workshops and sessions held throughout the event for musicians of every age, we aim to provide everyone an opportunity to learn and be entertained.

This year is special too—a triumphant comeback after 3 years of missed festivals due to Covid and wildfire. We couldn't be happier to be back and welcome you to this 25- year-old community event that draws generations of families and musicians from around the world. We'll have a rollicking good time with the Celtic Rock band The Elders who will grace our stage once again and get ready to be blown away by the ground-breaking, genre-bending band Talisk making their first appearance at the festival.

Don't forget to take something special home with you to remember the occasion. Our marketplace boasts a beautiful array of art, jewelry and apparel as well as delicious offerings from local food vendors. Mark your calendars for next year's festival too! We are moving the festival to the first week-end in May to avoid fire season. That will be May 3rd, 4th and 5th in 2024.

Your support of the Celtic Festival is a partnership with KVMR Community Radio that keeps independent, non-commercial media alive and well in the world. It helps us make good on our mission to bring worldly experiences and magic to the community.

Thank you for being here and enjoy!

music

Talisk

Ground-breaking, chart-topping, genre-bending, globetrotting, instantly enthralling. It's little wonder that Talisk ranks highly amongst the most in-demand folk-based groups to emerge from Scotland in the last decade and more.

Alasdair Fraser & Natalie Haas

The musical partnership between consummate performer Alasdair Fraser, "the Michael Jordan of Scottish fiddling", and brilliant cellist Natalie Haas spans the full spectrum between intimate chamber music and ecstatic dance energy. Over the last 20 years, they have truly set the standard for fiddle and cello in traditional music.

The Elders

The Elders were founded in 1998 by six individuals with a passion for music rooted in Americana and Celtic folk rock. Their ability to bring together the art of storytelling with elements both musically progressive and rooted in tradition has won them a broad international fan base and critical acclaim. With special guest Pete Grant on pedal steel guitar.

The Jeremiahs

The Jeremiahs formed to become a welcome "gopher in the garden" of Celtic music. Thus far the band has graced many stages during successful tours in countries around the world.

music

On the Lash

In honor of Irish traditional music, On The Lash creates timeless sounds through original voices. With new takes on classic songs and original constructions of established standards, OTL explores the inherent energy and versatility of the genre.

The Moxie Strings

A unique opportunity to experience some of the world's best known instruments through a young, progressive lens. Diana Ladio and Alison Lynn hold Bachelor of Music degrees in music performance and music education, giving each the technical foundation to explore the limits of her instrument and build a reputation for musical excellence.

Eamonn Flynn & Dublinesque

Irish keyboardist, singer and songwriter Eamonn Flynn forges his own kind of Irish soul. He draws from both his deftly written songs and Dublin humor buoyed by his soulful vocals and formidable piano and Hammond organ chops.

San Miguel Fraser

Celtic & Castilian fiddle duo María San Miguel and Galen Fraser are multi-instrumentalists and educators who celebrate the values of community and traditional music in their unique chamber music style. Their music contains all the traditional elements that you would expect, beautifully executed ornamentation and chording, but surprises with fresh tunings and startlingly touching and deeply thoughtful arrangements.

Steve Baughman

Steve Baughman is known as one of the world's premier Celtic, fingerstyle guitar players. His latest album was recently featured on NPR's "Thistle and Shamrock." Baughman is especially known for his solo guitar arrangements of Turlough O'Carolan's harp music.

music

Summer McCall

With an enthusiastic and infectious love for movement, Summer has long-standing experience and joy calling traditional dances for Scottish ceilidhs (pronounced kay-lee). With a background of well over a decade in modern, ballet, Middle Eastern, Irish/Scottish step dancing and tap, calling for dances came naturally.

Covered With Moss

Traditional Irish and Scandinavian tunes on fiddle, concertina, accordion, bouzouki, Nyckelharpa, and more.

Three Times Through

Three Times Through is a colorful funky kinda Celtic string quartet. They reimagine and blend traditional and modern tunes and songs with mandolin, hammered dulcimer, bodhran, concertina, bouzouki, banjo, fiddle and guitar.

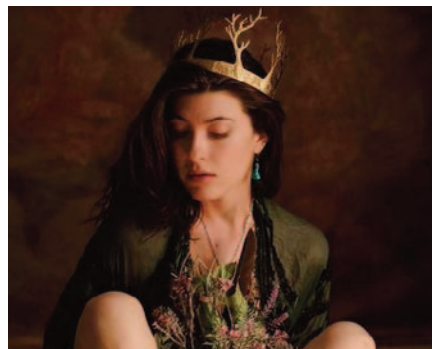

Old Soles

Masha and Geff Crawford offer traditional moonshine-flavored music with a twist of wry-whiskey humor. These Old Soles enjoy driving fiddle, bluesy rhythmic banjo, and close harmonies—interweaving old with new, Appalachian, Irish, Kate Wolf, and John Prine.

Cassidy Joy

Cassidy Joy is a multi-genre vocalist, instrumentalist and songwriter, with roots spanning from Celtic & Folk music to Classic Rock, Country, Pop and beyond. Joy has collaborated with many local musicians, including a successful eight year run as a duo with local singer Karen Woerner. While her solo material consists of some original songs, Joy identifies most as an interpretive singer, finding inspiration in music from decades and centuries before, and in breathing new life into old melodies.

saLEM STREET session stage

A Session (seisun in Gaelic) is a gathering of traditional musicians for the purpose of celebrating their common interest in the music by playing it together in a relaxed, informal setting. . . . It works like this: One musician starts playing a tune, and whoever knows the tune joins in and plays along."

Field Guide to the Irish Music Session—Barry Foy

Give us a tune or a song...

Everyone is welcome to join in!

The Session Stage is known for welcoming folks from all skill levels that are interested in playing traditional Celtic music in this most traditional way. Sessions last about 75 minutes, with a 30-minute break between sessions. Each session is unique, with the hosts of the session—musicians from the Main Stage - setting the tone and ground rules. There is comfortable seating out of sun and rain for players and listeners alike.

Regional Celtic Sessions sending players to the Session Stage this year include:

National Hotel Session:

This Session is hosted by musicians who have played together for decades, now playing in the bar of National Hotel in Nevada City every Thursday from 5–8 p.m. and every other Sunday 4–6 p.m. at the Holbrooke Hotel in Grass Valley. They play a variety of Celtic traditional tunes and often just burst into song without warning.

Auburn Session with Pete & Phyllis Grant

Experienced players have hosted this lively session in Auburn for nearly two decades. They play every Sunday night at the Tap & Vine in Auburn 6-8 p.m. The Auburn Session includes tunes, songs and lots of laughter.

Celtic Song Circle

If you like to sing, these are the sessions for you. Anyone is welcome to come lead a song, join in on the choruses, or just sit and listen. A cappella mainly, but if you'd like to accompany yourself, that's just fine. Led by Sharon Carl and Elizabeth Townsend, focus is on songs that celebrate Ireland and Scotland, but if you are not sure from where your song hails, that's okay, we'll sing it anyway!

Chico Session

These folks have hosted a session for many years in the Chico area, including Friday afternoons at Duffy's Tavern. They are all seasoned players who maintain a true traditional feel to a large repertoire of tunes.

San Francisco Scottish Fiddlers

Formed in 1986 by Alasdair Fraser, SFSF is now a musical family of more than 300 musicians of all ages, abilities, and backgrounds. They gather throughout the year to share the joy of playing music from the enduring Scottish tradition. Spontaneity is a key element, and they delight in breaking down the barrier between performers and audience.

Santa Rosa Session

These long-standing informal sessions play twice monthly at the Redwood Café in Cotati and also in other locations. They favor traditional Scottish and Irish music and even allow bagpipes, banjos and accordions to play at their sessions!

Starry Plough Session Players

From the famous Starry Plough pub in Berkeley, which hosts open traditional Irish music sessions (with breaks for singers) every Sunday night starting at 7:30 pm. They welcome you to lead a tune set, sing a song or just follow along.

clan cian

Traditionally Irish clans were territorial clans unlike Scottish clans which were strictly family clans. All families living within the demesne of the ruling lord was a member of his clan. Irish names often had the prefixes "O" (grandson or descendant of) "Mac" "Mc" "Ma" (son of). After immigrating to America, Canada, Australia, and elsewhere, the expatriate Irish often dropped these prefixes to get around the prejudice they found in their new homelands.

Clan Cian is the personal clan of The O'Carrolls of Éile O'Carroll. He has opened the clan for membership to all the descendants of the sons of the King of Munster, Olioll Olum and all those who support the goals of his clan.

The Diamond Rose Academie d'Armes

The Diamond Rose Academie d'Armes is a historical fencing school dedicated to promoting the techniques and principles of Western European Martial Arts through the study and practice of fighting systems of the 16th through the 18th centuries. We do not stage or reenact swordplay, every duel fought is a genuine test of skill in the art of defense. Our fencing is rooted in the French tradition that emphasizes timing, subtlety, and strategy over brute strength or speed. The Diamond Rose provides education and entertainment in our tournaments, duels, and melee games, as well as offering free introductory fencing lessons to the public as time and instructors allow. We have year round classes in Auburn, Nevada City, and Marysville. "Honor Above All."

foothill fibers guild of nevada county

For over 30 years, the Foothill Fibers Guild has brought together fiber artists—weavers, spinners, knitters, basketmakers, crocheters, and more—to share skills and experiences. Our members' skills range from novice to expert.

The guild includes many talented teachers, including locally- and internationally-known artists. Many members also raise fiber animals including sheep, alpacas, goats, and other creatures. Guild programs and workshops present finished works and opportunities to learn or refine many skills. We meet monthly and welcome visitors and new members.

The guild will demonstrate a "Sheep to Shawl" where they spin locally raised wool into yarn and then weave it into a shawl. This is a team effort. When finished, the shawl will be donated to the KVMR raffle.

STORY WRENS

The Story Wrens (formerly Wren of Iniquity) found their inspiration in the magical scene of the Original Renaissance Pleasure Faire in Agoura, California and the resurgent folk arts and early music there. Research and authenticity were the lay of the cultural landscape. The music and songs became the treasure found, literally the "treasure found" that would offer connection through time.

myra Lynne TRAUGOT

Myra Lynne Traugot presents her personal musical and historical voyage to 18th century Scotland, "Over the Sea to Skye with Flora MacDonald." In 1746 MacDonald saved the Stuart crown prince by passing him off as her Irish spinning maid, preventing his capture by British forces. Why did she do it and what became of her later? Who were the players in the political and cultural drama? What conspiratorial secrets are hidden in plain sight in the rich musical heritage of the era? Give a listen as Myra musically performs this piece of Scottish history.

CELTIC DANCE

McKeever School of Irish Dance

Kennelly School of Irish Dance

Animals of Celtic Lands

Irish Wolfhounds

The Northern California Irish Wolfhound Club was formed in 1974. The beginnings of Irish Wolfhounds can be traced back as early as 273 BC through ancient woodcuts and writings. Ownership of wolfhounds was highly restricted. They were sent as greatly coveted gifts to emperors, kings, nobility and poets.

Hunting and fighting filled the life of the early Irish, and master and hound alike excelled in both. Of all the animals cherished in Ireland, only the Irish Wolfhound appears as a symbol throughout the land—on every jar of Tullamore Dew Whiskey, on every piece of Belleek porcelain, sixpence coins and even postage stamps feature the Irish Wolfhound. Come by and see these beautiful animals.
