

KVMR's Annual Celtic Festival

Come for the Music, Stay for the Magic!

Fri May 3rd, Sat May 4th & Sunday May 5th, 2024

Since 1996, the KVMR Celtic Festival has been the flagship fundraising event for KVMR Community Radio, a not-for-profit serving Nevada County and Northern CA since 1978. Each year, the Celtic Festival inspires patrons from youth to forever youthful to gather in celebration to honor Celtic heritage, culture, arts and attitudes. Local, national and international performers join the ever-increasing cadre of regional talent of musicians, dancers, and performing artists. Families gather to enjoy cultural arts, activities and attire, plus crafting, workshops, medieval exhibitions, and a very popular Friday afternoon free Youth Arts Program, followed by our traditional Friday night Ceilidh (kay-lee) dance.

The promotional outreach for the Celtic Festival extends throughout KVMR's listening area and beyond. The festival is broadcast live and streamed on kvmr.org the entire weekend. Your sponsorship of the Celtic Festival reaches people outside the event itself, and gives the festival a distinctive connection for the 800 volunteers who generously donate their time and energy year after year, and of course, the 45,000+ KVMR radio listening audience that is 14 counties strong in Northern California, as well as online across the globe. Festival attendees come from all over California.

Friday Night Festivities!

KVMR's Celtic Festival begins our weekend with the well-loved Youth Arts Program on Friday afternoon at 4pm, kicking off the entire event. Friday also includes the annual Celtic cultural heritage dance, the Ceilidh (kay-lee). Come dance to the first Festival notes of live Celtic folk music in Ponderosa Hall, also the location for the Youth Arts Program being held earlier on Friday.

Friday Afternoon: Youth Arts Program! ~ FREE Arts Enrichment for Youth ~

The Youth Arts Program is intended to give area youth an opportunity to spend time with world-class artists across the genres of music, theater, and dance—inspiring them to either get involved with or continue the study of arts in their area of interest. This special program reliably sees a few hundred people in attendance, with 100+ youth and their parents there for the workshops and fun.

Workshops include "The Art of Magic" with fan favorite Merloch Silvermaine, plus Irish Step Dancing, a Singing Workshop, a Celtic Art Workshop, and How to Build a Tune, using whatever instruments attendees bring with them.

The workshops are only on Friday from 4-7pm before the festival. Participants take up to 3 workshops of their choice. This is a free youth program, thanks to your sponsorship, which is available to only one business sponsor, who gets all the same shine and recognition at the main event, but also has special access to sponsoring this three-hour event for over one hundred families.
